

Big Bums and Little Bums Ltd Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy

Big Bums and Little Bums (BBLB) are committed to creating a safe environment for children, vulnerable young people and adults that are involved in our services.

BBLB offers services for vulnerable adults and children and all roles within the organisation require a DBS enhanced disclosure application to be completed which will detail spent and unspent convictions, cautions, reprimands, final warnings and other relevant non-conviction information held on the Police National Computer.

All job applicants will be advised that a Disclosure will be carried out in any formal offer of employment. Prior to interview, BBLB will encourage applicants to discuss any previous convictions that may be part of the Disclosure. This confidential dialogue will not be made known to those conducting selection interviews but may be discussed with the Senior Management Team as necessary.

Criminal records will only be taken into account for employment purposes where the conviction is relevant.

Only Sarah Robb at BBLB will have full access to DBS Disclosures. Information may only be shared between organisations with the consent of the Disclosure applicant.

BBLB, is enabled by the legislation to use the Criminal Records Bureau and its Disclosure system to contribute to the assessment of the suitability of applicants and existing volunteers to work with and care for children, vulnerable young people and adults.

The Disclosure will form part of the assessment of a person's suitability and may rule them out regardless of their other skills and talents should the offence(s) be significant and relevant.

BBLB will make all decisions in the best interests of children, vulnerable young people and adults and will balance the relevance and significance of the offence(s) and the rehabilitation of the offender with the need to keep children, young people and adults safe.
